

Architectural Solid-Core Interior Wood Flush Doors

Open your doors to NEW possibilities.

Ever since Precision Veneer (PVP) was established in 1984, we have become one of North America's leading wood veneer panel providers. Our reputation for attention to detail and high-quality standards has provided us the opportunity to work on many prestigious projects. We now manufacture the Architectural Solid-Core Interior Wood Flush Doors to go along with the veneered panels.

Custom made to your specifications.

In addition to meeting specific industry and local building standards, our doors are customized for size, wood species, component dimensions and machining.

Just the door or looking for more?

We are happy to work on any sized project, even one stand-alone paneled door. If you are looking for more, we can sequence match the door with adjacent architectural panels, and supply both.

Accommodate a variety of hardware needs.

Purpose-built modifications to your specifications are standard, including machining for hinges, locksets, vision cut outs and wire chases.

Make every project a stunning success.

Your door. Your way.

PVP provides wood veneer panels and doors for the finest and most challenging commercial, residential, retail, and institutional projects. We look forward to providing you with high quality custom doors manufactured to AWI quality standards, and to your specifications.
